THE ERA OF COMPROMISE OPENED IN DUBLIN-NEITHER HOME RULE NOR COERCION-LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL'S AMBITION

AND INTRIGUES.

LONDON, July 31 .- The new Cabinet is largely a Cabinet of makeshifts. Tory and Unionist members make the best of the matter, but it is hardly too much to say that Lord Salisbury himself is the only man whose position really satisfies the party and the only Minister, with two exceptions, who has excited strong hopes for the future. Lord Salisbury's fame, moreover, rests chiefly on his achievements in foreign or Indian affairs; and he is now unable to play the double role of last year, but intends to devote himself to the solution of the most difficult domestic problem.

The rest of the Cabinet offices have been shuffled about as if by the turn of a kaleidoscope. Lord Iddesleigh as Foreign Secretary is confessedly a weak appointment. He is chosen simply because the Tory party contains no single member, except Lord Salisbury, with experience or special capacity for that post. The most Lord Iddesleigh's friends hope for is that he will make a safe Minister, supervised by Lord Salisbury. What they dread is that he will prove the Granville of the Ministry and that foreign policy in his hands will be irresolute, weak and temporazing. Nor has Lord Iddesleigh the power for hard work fourteen hours a day, which in addition to singular acuteness and quickness enabled Lord Rosebery to master the business of

When Mr. Morley was appointed Irish Secretary by Mr. Gradstone his name stood for a policy. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach in the same office signifies nothing. He is a capable administrator, a good man of business, moderate, honorable, and hardworking, but incapable of initiating a policy or penetrating the secret of a difficult situation. Perhaps his worse defect for such a place is his coldness of character and manner, his want of sympathy, his want of what Matthew Arnold says is the chief want of the English in trying to rule Ireland-more amiability. If any political inference can be drawn from Sir Michael Hicks Beach's presence in Dublin it is that the era of compromise is at hand. There is to be neither Home Rule nor coercion. Dublin Castle will be garrisoned, but the white flag will be hoisted for parley.

Still more colorless is the selection of the Marquis of Londonderry as Viceroy. The Irish Nationalists ery out against him because be is a Castlereagh. " He inherits," says United Ireland, " the blood and name of a cutthroat and hideous miscreant, the author of the Union, and the high priest of all base corruptions." The Marquis of Londonderry, who succeeded his father only two years ago, till then bore the title of Viscount Castlereagh. He is best known as the husband of Lady Castlereagh, a beauty and leader in the fashionable world of London and the heroine of much gossip friendly and unfriendly. He accepts the Viceroyalty against her wish and against the advice of his family. Lord Salisbury offered the Marquis of Londonderry his choice of two posts: Master of Horse and the Viceroyalty. He chose the latter. His tenure will be ornamental. The social functions of the Castle will be splendidly performed, but nothing that is known of the Londonderrys encourages the hope firmly established by the Aberdeens. There is, however, a story that when standing for Parliament Viscount Castlereagh took a Home Rule line. Whether he did or did not matters little. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and Lord Ashbourne both have seats in the Cabinet and the Marquis of Londonderry does not have one. Politically he can only

Lord Randolph Churchill has now climbed with a rapidity for which there are few precedents nearly to the summit of his ambition. It is but a step from the leadership of the House to the office of Prime Minister. The city, which here means the financial world, views his accession to the Chancellorship of the Exchequer with a certain distrust. He is, or was, a Protectionist and has advocated in times past sweeping changes in existing methods of finance; but nobody doubts his capacity and industry, while his intimate relations with the Rothschilds are thought likely to sober his measures must now be so framed as to secure the of whom are conservative in finance, the latter next after Mr. Gladstone being the ablest financier living. Old-fashioned Tories question, not Lord Randolph Churchill's ability to lead the House, but his discretion, and doubt whether he is likely to conciliate the Unionists. But one of the oldest Liberal members declared yesterday that he regarded Lord Randolph Churchill as better qualified to lead than any man he had known. Perhaps his want of robust health is his most serious defect, the leadership of the flouse being excessively hard

Mr. Matthews at the Home Office is the greatest surprise of all. It is understood to be Lord Randolph Churchill's nomination, pressed on Lord Sal-Isbury in order to secure the exclusion of Sir Richard Cross. Mr. Matthews's election for Birmingham followed by his success in the trial of Sir Charles Dilke made his name suddenly familiar to the public. He is a Roman Catholic with reported Home Rule leanings, but his eminence is purely professional. He is a man of great resolution and vigor of character, who has his spurs to win in politics. He may have to decide as Home Secretary, whether to prosecute Sir Charles Dilke for perjury. His appointment is a compliment to Birmingham and handsome recognition of the service Birmingham did by electing a Tory just twice in forty years. The Liberals for that very reason mean to contest his re-election, if there is a prospect of beating him. No decision has been taken, but Mr. Chamberlain's influence is likely to pull Mr. Matthews through posed of. He declined to regard the peerage as a sufficient consolation for retirement. He insists on the India Office, or the Colonial Office, and has some other personal pretentions. He has blocked the road for two days past so that this morning the Cabinet remains incomplete. Only ten places are certainly filled. Lord Halsbury as Lord Chancellor and Lord Ashbonrne as Lord Chancellor of Ireland, were matters of course. Both are able and popular statesmen. Mr. Smith's return to the War Office excites neither enthusiasm nor bitterness. The same may be said of Lord George Hamilton at the Admiratty, while of Lord John Manners in the sinecure post of the Duchy of Lancaster nothing whatever requires to be said. The Cabinet as a whole, supposing it to be completed by Sir Richard Cross in the India Office and Mr. Stanhope in the Colonial Office is distinctly inferior in ability and political authority to the outgo-

The change in the Foreign Office from Lord Rosebery to Lord Iddesleigh may affect Anglo-American relations. Lord Iddesleigh like Lord Rosebery, though in less degree, is friendly to America, but it will be an agreeable disappointment if his friendship proves itself efficient, vigorous and practical, Without vigor nothing can be forced through the

The notion gains ground that efforts will be made on both sides to avoid Icollision between the new Government and the National League in and out of Parliament. The Tory organs publish conciliatory articles intimating that the Ministry will meet Mr. Parnell half way. They don't wish to coerce, if he will keep the League within bounds. Intimadations come from other quarters of higher authority that if the estimates are passed in August and Parliament allowed to adjourn tili February, the Ministry will employ the interval in devising benevolent measures for Ireland. Mr. Paruell keeps

The new peerages and baronetcies conferred on Thomas Brassey's is perhaps the most popular. Sir Michael Bass gets a peerage because his father re vices. All these three are the apotheosis of money. Sir Henry Thring's is the reward for hard work as parliamentary draftsman. The judges, who have to interpret his statutes, might dissent. The baronetcies are more sharply criticised than the peerages, but on the whole Mr. Gladstone is thought to have shown discretion and moderation. Mr. Gladstone's visit yesterday to Osborne is the last for the present. He has given up the seals and said farewell to the Queen. Lord Salisbury has really been Prime Minister since Monday with a Liberal Cabi-

The published rumors of Sir Charles Dilke's flight to the Continent in auticipation of prosecution for perjury are incorrect. Lady Dilke was yesterday seen driving in Bond-st. in an open carriage and pair. She and her husband remain for the present in London. Sir Charles Dilke still has a useful friend in the press, who hints that he may offer a reward of $5,000 for " Fanny," the witness who hitherto has been easily discovered when it but who vanished when her evidence was likely to injure him. A suggestion comes from the same quarter that Mrs. Crawford may be prosecuted for perjury. Her crime appears to consist in having convinced the judge and jury, who refused to be ieve Sir Charles Ditke.

Goodwood has monopolized nearly all the gayety social point of view, but complaints are heard that the racing has fallen off in quality. Society is already scattering, though the August session up to York on a circuit with Baron Huddleston.

Mr. Boucleault's " Jilt " produced on Thursday at fashionable was received with kindness with which the merits of the piece had little to do. The play is here thought to be a tissue of familiar scenes enlivened with much sparkling Mr. Boucicault, always a favorite actor, has not lost ais hold on the London public. The robust manner of Mrs. Barker, from Wallack's, suited the audience Miss Thorndike, of the Madison Square Theatre, easily won the admiration of the house for her good looks and good dressing, and her original style and Southampton for New-York, accompanied by other member of the party is J. C. Parkinson, a man exceedingly popular and formerly a distinguished journalist, long connected with The Daily News, and an author well-known for his practical, disinterested efforts in social questions. He was afterward concerned in telegraphs, and now commercial transactions in partnership and otherwise with Sir George Elliot, whose daughter be married. Mr. Parkinson is a Preemason very high up in masonic rank. Mr. Irving spends a few days in New-York, gives a dinner to his friends at Delnonico's, then goes on a yachting trip to Newport and elsewhere and returns in September. Mr Irving's season, which has been successful beyond precedent, closes to-night with a benefit to Ellen Terry as Margaret in "Faust." The theatre re-opens in September with the same piece,

CANADA WILL NOT GO DOWN ON HER KNEES WILLING TO RENEW THE RECIPROCITY TREATY-

VICTORIA, B. C., July 31. Sir John A. Maclonable received a civic address last night in the theatre which was crowded with men and women. Sir John in the course of his reply referred to Lord Salisbury's deteamships for the Pacific Ocean in connection with the rnment was determined to have a swift line of steam

SUCCESS OF THE CANADIAN FISHING POLICY. OTTAWA, Ont., July 31 .- In the course of his visit to the maritime provinces Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, spent some time in a personal in-Marine and Fisheries, spent some time in a personal investigation of the complex fisheries question in the Bay of F undy. As a result of the investigation several measures will at once be put into operation for the more thorough enforcement of the law upon the border waters of New-Brunswick and Maine. The people of the maritime provinces are loud in their praises of the vigorous and efficient policy of the Government. Mackerel have been pienty and with little exception have kept close in shore. The United States achooners give the cruisers a wide berth. The purchase of bait and supplies has been effectually stopped and no transhipment of cargoes has been allowed.

WELSH MEMBERS TO FORM A NATIONAL PARTY LONDON, July 31 .- The Welsh members of

THE IRISH LACROSSE TEAM COMING. QUEENSTOWN, July 31.—The Irish gentlemen increase players sailed to-day on the steamer Etruria for New-York.

NEWS NOTES FROM LONDON.

BURNING OF A SHOE FACTORY.—The shoe factory of Stead, Simpson & Co., at Leicester, has been destroyed by fire. The loss is $250,000. Fifteen hundred persons are thrown out of employment.

AUSTRALIANS BEATEN AT CRICKET. - The Surrey elever played a match game of cricket to-day with the Austr lian team. The Australians were beaten by one jumin and 200 runs.

DUBLIN, July 31 .- The Mayor and members of the corporation of Limerick presented to the Earl of Aberdeen, the retiring Lord Lieutenant, in this city to-day an address thanking him for his support of the Home Rule project, and hoping that Mr. Gladatone's statecraft would soon bring peace and prosperity to Ireland. Lord Aberdeen, in returning thanks, said he hoped that a satisfactory adjustment of Irish affairs would soon be effected.

A DUEL TO THE DEATH WITH SABRES. ALGIERS, July 31 .- Two French sub-officers of the army here became involved in a quarrel, and a He is at Ein challenge to fight a duel resulted. The weapons chosen were sabres. The head of one of the combatants was

IS THERE DISTRESS IN LABRADOR OR NOT? LONDON, July 31 .- The Colonial Office anounces that the following telegram was sent yesterday to the Earl of Clanwilliam, the British Admiral at Char

Report whether you can suggest any means of send-ng succor to the distressed inhabitants of Labrador, rawing supplies from shaif4x or elsewhere, first, by hips of war, secondly, by other means.

The following reply was received:

The reported distress is deuted here. I have received no communication on the subject from the Governor of the senior officer in Newfoundland or from any other source. I have telegraphed to the Governor for information.

CLANWILLIAM.

The Governor of Newfoundland subsequent y replied I have reason to believe that the report of starvation in Labrador is absolutely unfounded.

PRAGMENTS OF CABLE NEWS. AMSTERDAM, July 31.—A Socialist leader, one Vander stadt, was arrested here to day.

Kissengen, Joly 31.—Prince Biamarck and his wife started to-day for Manich on route to Gastein. HAYRUUTH, July 31. - The condition of Abbe Liszt has Materia, July 31.—Serior Camacho, Minister of Finance, has tendered his resignation. In the Cortes to-day Premier Sagasts read a royal decree suspending the sitting of that body.

FOUL MURDER OF RASURES.

GREAT EXCITEMENT THROUGHOUT TEXAS

DEMANDS SATISFACTION. GALVESTON, Tex., July 31 .- A dispatch to been advised of the sucremer and execution of Francisco Rasures telegraphed to L. D. Linn, the American Consul at Piedras Negras, for particulars and has received the Governor Ireland has written to T. F. Bayard, United

which had begun to exist in Texas toward. Mexico has service as a deck hand for this trip.

seen reversed by the Cutting and other outrages re- A good sailing breeze was blowing from the South and Currago, July 31. - General Vincente Reva Palacio, from Mexico to Spain and Portugal, accompanied by border, he replied that such acts were not approved SUSPENSION OF W. J. HOOPER & SON. Baltimore, July 31 (Special). Commercial and manufacturing circles here were greatly surprised to-day by the announcement that the firm of William J. the trustees, Thomas M. Lanahan and James A. Gary. The firm is extensively engaged in the manufacturing of seine twine neither, etc. About two years ago Mc. William J. Hooper bought a large property at Mountain Island, Gaston County, N. C. and established a large factory there. He employs five or six hundred operatives and has been doing much to develop that particularly of North Carolina. He has also a large warehouse here. Mr. Hooper is engaged not only in the milling bushness, but is president of the Herald Publishing Company and almost sole owner of that paper. The Herald is the one-cent paper of lightmore, Since Mr. Hooper purchased it for about $125,000 five years ago, he has expended $75,000 or $100,000 in the improvement of the plant. A rough extracte places the assets at $500,000; the habilities at from $125,000 to $175,000. Mr. Hooper is one of the most prominent Republicans in

REDUCING THE SHORT DISTANCE RECORD. CLEVELAND, July 31 (Special).-Harry M. Johnson, of Pittsburg, the champion short distance run-her of the world, ran against the 100-yards world

SEVEN MEMBERS OF A PLEASURE PARTY

LOSE THEIR LIVES. ADELPHIANS ON BOARD, CAPSIZED IN A SQUALL NEAR SANDY HOOK-SIX WOMEN AND ONE MAN UNABLE TO ESCAPE

FROM THE CABIN AND DROWNED. A sad accident to a pleasure party from Phuadelphia occurred at Sandy Hook Point during the storm on Friday night. The schooner Sarah July 20, 1876, and Commodore William T. Garner and troples which no skill or foresight could avert beam 19.3 feet, and depth of hold feet and I inch. She was built at Patchon Mills and E. A. Euland, the latter ber captain and salling master at the time of the accident. During the winter On Saturday, July 17, she left Edenton, Ga., with a

Mr. Bu kley looked the Craig over and appeared to be when it was finally settled that the Craig should take stic over the prospect of a pleasant vacation away from graphed that business engagements detained them in Philadelphia. The disappointment resulting from the up carry Firlian morning and took a small boat off to the withstanding the earnest protestations of her compan-ions, was rowed ashore. A start was finally made at 7 Hood stevens was to go n earl, then return to an an energie in the shrewsbury filver and spend the evening at Long Branch. A day at Concy Island, another a Pire Island and a quick sait bock to Puladelpina niled out the programme decided upon before leaving home.

He said!

"When the second dash of rain came we were about a mile due east of Sandy Hook point. I had noticed threatening and murky-looking clouds gathering in the northwest and considerable lightning, but didn't look for CLEVELAND, July 31 (Special).—Harry M. In the control to the properties of the control to the co piteously for help and thumping on the sides of the cabin. About this time Captain Patterson, of the Life-Saving Station, neard of our situation and sent the tugboat William Cramp, which had been lying to inside the Hook, to give us help. When she came alongside William Parris, the colored water, jumped aboard, and the young men were told that they had better do the same thing, but they refused to leave the wreck until the ladies were safe. The Cramp threw me a line, which I made fast to the jib traveller on the Craig, and an effort was made to tow us in to the beach, but the tide was cibing so strongly and the wind was so heavy that the jib traveller gave way and carried part of the bulwarks with it. The Cramp dritted off and the tug B. T. Haviland, which chanced to be coming in from a cruise, came up and took of "Sam" Jones, the cook, Lewis Bowman, young Potter and myself. She was blown away before the others could get on and the Cramp returned, threw a line to the rest and pulied them aboard."

women morning and thumping on the sides of the cabin faily an hour and a haif after the Craix keeled over. The port rail was then about turee feet out of the water. Toward morning the tide turned and the Haviland pulled the wreck around the Hook and attempted to beach her near the Government Dook. The beach is so precipitous at that point that the attempt was unsuccessful. The wreck had settled in the meantime, and not more than an inch of the port rail was visible. After several efforts to right the captized schooner, Captain Guily, of the Haviland, who is a native of the West Indies and an experienced oliver, dived into the submerged cabin and brought out five of the bodies. This occupied an hour, and at the expiration of that time the captain was so beauthed that he was obliged to desist. Steward John Doran, of the Haviland, made a search of the cabin for the body of Miss Pessie Merritt, who was supposed to have been in one of the leeward bunks when the vessel keeled over, but was unable to find it. Others made a search during the afternoon, but as it was notfound the opinion was expressed that it had floated out to sea during the nicht. The body of Mrs. Stevens was found resting on the mainsail of the senooner at daybreak. The names of those lost, all of whom live in Philadelphia, are:

Askin, Mas. H. A., age twenty four, of No. 1,933 Judson-

Mrs. T. Hoop, age fifty five, of No. 1,933 Judson-

ON THE EXCURSION. PHILADELPHIA, July 30 (Special). - The Sarah Craig is not a Philadelphia vessel. She arrived in this port last week from North Carolina, la feu with week's cruise among the seaside resorts. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stovens, Miss M. Stovens, the Misses Merritt, Miss M. E. Reiteve, Mrs. H. A. Askib, Mrs. Jessie McCiure, S. C. W. Jordan, F. W. but for some reason, as yet unexplained they declined to go on beard. All the mornhers of the party with a single exception, that o were connected with well-known business houses in this Street station. Of the ladies who lost their lives, Mrs. Misses Merritt were daughters of Edwin A. Merritt, of Philadelphia, July 31 (Special),-The party on the Saran Craig was known as " The Novelty Social," being the major part of a company of mon and women who enjoyed themselves last fall and winter by box parties at the opera and in other social ways, Mrs. Sievens and Mrs. Askin were the chaperons of the party re. When the news reached the city it spread rapidly of which firm Marcius Bulkley was a member, took to Long Branch, N. J., July 31 (Special). The inquest was held to night by Coroner Van Wert in the rear village. There were no facts brought out and the jury rendered a verdiet of accidental death by drowning.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

OCEAN GROVE, July 31 (Special) .- Although the fourth day of the National Temperance Society

PRICE THREE CENTS.

SQUIRE'S DAMAGING LETTER FEW NEW DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.

A "CITIZENS" MEETING PROPOSED-STORY OF A

"If the Governor doesn't approve the Mayor's findings in the Squire case," said a gentleman who called at the City Hall yesterday to see the Mayor, meeting."

tions for holding "a citizens' mass-meeting" in the Cooper Institute to protest against delay by the Goverby the Mayor in other matters affecting his political fortunes, it caused some good-na-tured comment. It was taken, however, to indicate a belief on the part of the Mayor that the Governor will not consent to the prompt removal of Squire. The laterests of Contractor Maurice B. Fiynn and Contractor John O'Brien, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, are so inti-mately associated with the control of the Public Works Department that it is known that they will do their best to save Squire. The knowledge that the District-Attorney has given orders to look up the law concerning the writing of such a letter as that on which the Mayor rests his case against already published about Thompson having furnished missioner of Accounts Shearman said yesterday that he ter. Mr. Ivins, who dealt with Thompson in behalf of the Mayor, declined to say anything further on the sub-

Works. A day or two before the nomination of Squire by Mayor Edson, Maurice B. Flyan and John business partner, called at the office of William H. Flynn and O'Brien were introduced by Mr. Clark, who a check for $30,000 cashed. Mr. Clark vouched for them,

John O'Brien was nearly as much interested in having a friend in the office of Commissioner of Public Works as was Flynn. He could not count certainly on Controiler Loew, who was then new in office. Since then used to further corrupt schemes. If Huberi O. Thompson was going out of the Department of Public Works, it was advisable to have vouched for Squire as in every way filling the bill.

Mr. Flynn was found yesterday in the office of Aliston, Gerry & Co., in the Stew art Building. He was asked whether the transactions tion mentioned had any connection with the confirma-tion of Squire by the Board of Aldermen. He replied that he had had a good many financial transaction within the last three or four years, and did not remember this one clearly. This much he could say, however: that he had never pail a penny to any one to obtain a vote for

THEOUGH NEW-YORK STATE.

TROUBLES OF THE BRINCKERHOFFS.

Baruard dismissed Mrs. B.luckerhoff's motion for a divorce great efforts have been made for a permanent Two propositions have been made by the plaintiff and it the counsel for the defendant will not accept either Mrs.

KINGSTON, July 31 (Special),-Colonel C. C. mith, a widely-known farmer of Hurley, near this eley, dropped dead suddenly near his home this afternoon

TO CELEBRATE EMANCIPATION DAY. BINGHAMTON, July 31 (Special).—The negroes of time city, Ithaca, Elimica, Owego, Norwich, and other cities and towns will on Thestay celebrate E nancipation Day here. Two colored baseball aimes will contest for supremacy at Erverside. Pack, a fateman race will be held, and John R. Lynen, of Mississippi, will deliver an address.

REPRESENTATIVE BEACH BETTER. Newburg, July 31.-Congressman Beach is slowly improving. His recovery is now regarded as as-

AMSTERDAM, July 31 .- Three men rushed nto a Chinese laundry on Market-st. last night, knocked

BUFFALO, July 31 .- The eastward movement of flour and grain from the West through Buffalo for July shows an increase of 245,401 barrols in receipts of flour and an increase of 4,820,093 bushels in receipts of grain month last year. The total receipts of the season to date are: Flour, 1,935,778 barrels; wheat, 17,183,729 bushels; corn, 13,265,731. ROCHESTER, July 31.-The Monroe County Irish Na-Union and Advertiser, and Jose,th O'Connor, Editor of tional League last night elected a delegation of twenty members, headed by William Purcell, Editor of 186 The Post-Express, to the Chicago convention next month, All are uncompromisingly opposed to dynamite or other forms of violence. This is the parent League of the United States, and was organized in January, 1880.

SUICIDE OF A STATION AGENT.

HARTFORD, July 31 (Special) .- W. H. Dickins on, the agent at the Deep River station of the Hartford and Connecticut Valley Railroad, committed suicide this morning by hanging. A short time ago he resigned his position and E. C. Starker was appointed to file his place. Dickinson was to remain and histract the new agent in his duties. This morning Starker went to the depot, and on opening the freight house found Dickinson hanging from one of the beams.

HE CALLED THE COURT A "LIME-KILN CLUB. MIDDLETOWN, Conn., July 31 .- The charge of contempt of court against Frank H. Alford, of The Middletown Herald, was settled to-day, Alford filing with the Court a written opology. He recently took oc-casion to say in his paper that a bond of $100, fixed in the case of a prisoner charged with attempting brutal assault, was outrageously low in view of the fact that the bond in the case of F. H. Foster, a newspaper man accused of criminal libel, was fixed at $5,000. In winding up the article he termed the court the "Lime Kilu Club." He was thereupon arrested,

A COLORED MAN KILLED WITH A BRICK. PHILADELPHIA, July 31.-Early this morning a party of young men boarded a vessel lying at Pine Street wharf, Delaware, with the intention of going swimming in the river. They were driven off by these on board, and retaliated by throwing stones at the ressel. One of the missiles struck Samuel Shaw, aga twenty-four, a colored man, who stood on the deck, knecking him into the stream, and he was drowned before assistance could reach him. Five boys, John, Timothy and Richard McLaughlin, George Flynn and Thomas Manning were arrested.